

OUR BREAKDOWN

The Redlegs are the early birds of the SANFL competition with 7 of their 9 scheduled home games already run and done by Saturday morning, five of those on a Friday night. Whilst Norwood as 2013 Premiers are the designated home team for the traditional ANZAC DAY clash (v North) they venue is yet to be confirmed. 9 of their 16 scheduled games are at night, equal highest with West.

Marquee Match— The Rd 1 traditional blockbuster against Port always brings a crowd as should the AN-ZAC DAY game against North and early Friday Night clashes with Sturt & Adelaide.

Other— It will be en early start for travelling fans in Rd 2 when their league game at Elizabeth commences at 12.10pm for TV purposes. Their home game against the Bulldogs will be on a Friday Night, the first time this match has been slated in this time slot for many years.

OUR BREAKDOWN

The restructured Magpies will have play 9 games at home and 9 away next season. They will play in a key season opener against Norwood at the Parade in Round 1, travel to Woodville for an Easter Monday game against the Eagles and take on the Crows on May 4th in Clare, the only country match in the SANFL this season. All home games are on a different day to Power AFL games.

Marquee Match— The Magpies do have 2 home games when the Power have a bye, against South on May 17th and one of the most intriguing matches of the season, a home game against the Crows on July 26th, the first time the AFC have ventured to the home ground of their AFL rivals.

Other— Between Rounds 6 and 10, the Magpies play 4 of the 5 games at home but are on the road for 3 of their final 4 matches. Of their 9 home games, 4 are on the same weekend as a Power home game, 3 when the Power are interstate and 2 when the Power have a bye.

OUR BREAKDOWN

The Panthers have been experimental with their home game scheduling in recent years trying Sunday, Good Friday, Friday Night and Saturday Night as regular timeslots. In 2014, 4 of the 9 scheduled games are on a Saturday Afternoon with just one each for Friday Twilight, Friday Night and Saturday Night. 5 of their 7 scheduled away games are also on a Saturday Afternoon.

Marquee Match— The traditional Good Friday twilight (5pm) game is back once again against the Tigers in Round 3 and the Saturday Night clash against Norwood on May 10th should also draw a good crowd.

Other— South have 3 straight home games between Rounds 11-13, but have just one home game in the last 3 rounds of the season. Their three longest road trips to Prospect, Elizabeth and Alberton are all out of the way by Round 7.
